RECEPTION

Dear colleague,

on the occasion of the 2019 World Water Week in Stockholm, the Water, Peace and Security consortium invites you to a networking reception on:

Tuesday, 27th August ~ 17:30 - 19:00 ~ Dutch Pavilion

The reception provides experts like you with an opportunity to network and informally discuss the links between water resources and security, water-related security challenges and ways to address them through coherent and integrated policy choices.

The reception will also be an opportunity for an update on the Water, Peace and Security project and its work on identifying water-related security risks and potential conflicts through large-scale data analysis and modeling and machine learning, comprehensive case study analysis, as well as integrated policy approaches for the diplomacy, the development and the defense communities.

We look forward to seeing you in Stockholm.
the Water, Peace and Security Consortium
